First Mobile Electric Vehicle Charging - Available at UC Irvine

Irvine, Calif., Nov. 12, 2014 – UC Irvine Transportation and Distribution Services is now offering mobile electric vehicle charging, becoming the first university nationwide to provide this service. Part of the VIP Service Motorist Assistance Program, this service is complimentary and available to all UCI faculty, staff, students, and visitors stranded in traffic with a drained battery. Trained staff will utilize the Level 2 mobile charger to provide the vehicle with enough power to safely reach the nearest of UCI’s 28 ChargePoint stations.

With an increase in electric vehicle usage, UCI Transportation continues to expand its services to assist these travelers. In addition to VIP Service’s mobile charging capabilities, UCI plans to open twelve new ChargePoint stations in early 2015.
